I wanted our supporters to know that I've been invited to be the Guest Speaker at AIT Global's 18th Annual Information Technologies and Information Security Conference at the United Nations in New York City, on November 20. I was asked to address "Online Safety for our Children and Communities."

My presentation will cover the historic Partnership forged between Governor Pataki, the New York State Office of Cyber Security & Critical Infrastructure (CSCIC), and The Alliance of Guardian Angels. I'll let you know how our Strike Force will utilize the Guardian Angels' CyberAngels expertise to help schools and communities take charge of their own on-line safety, against sexual predators and on line scammers and hackers.

If you'd like to attend the conference, register at www.aitglobal.com. Just type-in Curtis when you register, there's no charge to attend.
