Tonight's National Night Out will be celebrated around Vallejo and beyond tonight.

Two specialized event locations are set for 201 Maine St. and the corner of Tennessee and Monterey streets.

The Marina Vista Tenants Association's celebration is open to the general public, and is designed to "show the public that our residents are equally concerned about the recent violence in our area. ... We are taking a stand against violence, and uniting for the greater good of our community," according to an e-mail from the association. The 6 to 8 p.m. event is accessible through gate 8 at 201 Maine St.

At the Monterey and Tennessee streets celebration, also running from 6 to 8 p.m., the Solano County Guardian Angels will have a booth to talk about safety patrols, while Youth and Family Services of Solano County representatives will speak on drugs, gangs and alcohol. There also will be a musical showcase, said event organizer Maria Guevara.
