

Guardian Angels for Waitakere?

Auckland man Andy Cawston wants Guardian Angels group set up to patrol Waitakere City
11 January 2006

An Auckland man wants to introduce to New Zealand a citizens' crime fighting group first set up in New York in the 1970s.

The Guardian Angels group was set up in 1979, following concerns about crime in the Bronx.

Andy Cawston wants the vigilantes to patrol Waitakere City.

Mr Cawston describes the concept as a roving neighbourhood watch, with a focus on violent crime. He has already held discussions with police.
